Membership Overview

NCSEA works with its members and partners to transform our state and region's energy system through market innovation and policy advocacy. Our work is informed by our diverse community of energy industry leaders, utilities, customers, and innovators. For over forty years, our mission-driven business model has furthered the transformation of North Carolina energy policy, markets, and systems that create an affordable, resilient, and secure clean energy future.

Becoming a member of NCSEA offers many opportunities, including:

- Helping to shape clean energy policy and enhancing market insight;
- Building brand awareness; and
- Networking with key decision makers and industry professionals.
